

Fees Assumed by You

1. For returns involving non-manufacturer defects, the following two fees will be assumed by you:

1.1 Return Postage

The cost of return postage differs based on the carrier. Please consult your preferred carrier for the approximate pricing. In this situation, we can not offer mail (return) label. Please consult your preferred carrier and return the product.

1.2 Original Shipping Fee

1.2.1 If free shipping was NOT included in your original order of the product(s) you are returning, we will deduct the shipping fee from your final refund total.

1.2.2 If the product(s) in question being returned was bought with free shipping, a base shipping fee that was incurred by the company will be accounted for, resulting in a reduction of the overall refund. (For more information, please refer to Shipping Fee Reference List Table as shown below.).
